5th Annual "Peace, Love and a Cure" Event

Robin Roberts, anchor of ABC's "Good Morning America," who was diagnosed with triple negative breast cancer in 2007, embraces 10 year-old Jolie Zenna at the Triple Negative Breast Cancer Foundation's "Peace, Love and a Cure" benefit on May 31, 2012 in Tenafly, NJ. Jolie's mom Nancy Block-Zenna, who succumbed to the disease, was the Foundation's honorary founder and Jolie thanked Robin for being warrior for her mom and other women afflicted by this aggressive form of breast cancer.

The Triple Negative Breast Cancer Foundation's mission is to raise awareness of triple negative breast cancer and to support scientists and researchers in their efforts to determine the definitive causes of triple negative breast cancer, so that effective detection, diagnosis, prevention and treatment can be pursued and achieved.
